

HORRORS OF WAR ATTACKED BY CONFERENCE

JAPAN EXPECTED TO RECEDE FROM STAND FOR MORE SHIPS

Admiral Baron Kato To Give Japan's Decision At Meeting Of Naval Limitation Conference Today—Premier Briand To Bring Up Question Of Land Armament Limitation Today.

BRITISH PAPERS DEMAND ABROGATION OF THE ANGLO-JAPANESE ALLIANCE

Washington, D. C., November 23.—Japan has decided to recede from her hitherto insistent stand that she be allowed an increase of 10 per cent in her capital ship tonnage, under the American programme for limitation of naval armament. This was learned today on highest authority, as the naval armament committee of the Arms Conference met to discuss the situation. Admiral Baron Kato, minister of the Japanese Navy, is expected to announce Japan's decision at the meeting today.

Premier Briand, of France, will bring the question of land armament to the fore again today. It was learned officially that Briand would make a final statement on the question of the limitation of land armament at a meeting of the committee on land armament.

Try To Minimize War Horrors

Out of the Arms Conference may come a proposal that the nations unite to minimize the horrors of war, if not entirely prevent it.

The American Advisory Council, appointed by President Harding to assist the American delegation was today working out various suggestions which may be brought before the conference.

Steps to prevent the use of poison gas in warfare will be considered by the council. The American delegates expressed the opinion that the use of deadly gas should be considered first and the council was asked for a definite recommendation.

World May Know Outcome Today. The world may know today whether a definite agreement on the limitation of naval armament will be reached by the Arms Limitation Conference.

With the naval experts of the United States, Great Britain and Japan deadlocked over Japanese insistence for a navy 70% as great as that of the other two powers instead of 60% as proposed by the United States, the conference itself, sitting as a committee, will take up the question. Authoritative information predicts an agreement either by compromise or by the yielding of the Japanese.

With such an agreement the last big obstacle now in sight to a naval limitation pact will be removed, conference leaders said. Some of the minor details will have to be discussed later.

Meanwhile Briand may bring before the committee the question of French and Italian sea forces but this is expected to cause little difficulty.

Britain Takes Further Step

London, Eng., Nov. 23.—A further sweeping naval retrenchment planned by the British government, it is learned, is to include a sweeping reduction in the personnel of the Royal Navy, including, it is said, the demotion of 6 captains and 240 commanders. Most of these demoted were promoted during the war.

The Northcliffe papers are demanding an abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, which they claim is detrimental to China, prejudicial to America, unpopular in the British Dominion and even harmful to Japan.

SENATE AGREES TO VOTE ON NEWBERRY CASE AFTER JAN 1

Finally Agree To Make Fight "Unfinished Business" For Fourth Day Of The Next Session Of Senate

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Agreement to vote on the Newberry case after January 1st, was reached today in the senate.

Under the agreement offer made by Senator Spencer, who is leading the fight to give Senator Newberry a clear title to his seat, the Ford-Newberry contest will be made the "unfinished business" on the fourth calendar day after the senate meets on January 1st.

Australian "Bull-Roarer."

The bull-roarer, used by the aborigines of Australia in religious ceremonies, is a strip of wood attached to a string. It gives out a loud grating or "howling" noise when whirled, and this is alleged to be the voice of a spirit.

PRESIDENT SIGNS CAMPBELL-WILLIS ANTI-BEER BILL

Medicinal Beer Regulations Will Be Rescinded. Brewers May Attack Bill's Legality.

SAY CONSTITUTION INFRINGED UPON

This View Supported By Several Government Officials—May Be Tested In Court.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—President Harding today signed the Campbell-Willis Beer Bill, which puts an end to the manufacture and sale of medicinal beer.

The medicinal beer regulations were promulgated about a month ago, following which a total of seventeen brewers were granted permits to manufacture the pre-Prohibition product. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will now issue a ruling withdrawing the beer regulations.

May Attack Constitutionality. An attack on the constitutionality of the Campbell-Willis Bill will probably be made by several breweries, which hold Congress infringed on the constitution in barring the manufacture of medicinal beer, and this view is supported by some government officials.

CONGRESS ON LAST LAP OF SPECIAL TAX SESSION

Much Re-Written Tax Bill Expected To Flash Under Wire When Senate Votes At 5 This Afternoon

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—(By the United Press) Congress awaited the fall of the gavel today which ends the special session called by President Harding for the prime purpose of revising tariff and tax regulations.

The much rewritten tax bill, the last piece of legislation will flash under the wire as the session closes. The Senate will vote on the measure this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Simple Rule to Remember. When should "fewer" be used, and when should "less"? Is it correct, for example, to say "I have no 'less' than 100 bushels"? The rule to avoid this common mistake is to remember that fewer is used when referring to numbers—as in the above example—and less when referring to quantity.

Beauty Versus Herrick

Miss Anna Elizabeth Nobel, 18, was a beauty contestant in Washington last summer when Congressman Herrick of Oklahoma proposed legislation against beauty contests. Miss Nobel has had her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Nobel, New York, appointed her guardian and her attorney says that is preparatory to a suit against Herrick charging breach of promise.

Their bid totaled $267,452.50 or a little more than $44,000 per mile. The Burnside Construction Company was second lowest, being bid $10,000 higher than the Anderson Co.

The low bidder on the Indiana county section was R. J. DeLong, of Williamsport, with the Azzara Construction Co., of Cresson, next lowest.

Local Parties Attend Bid Opening. Contractor H. P. Dowler, W. B. Hughes and John M. Bain of Clearfield, attended the opening of bids on the Clearfield and Indiana counties State road at Harrisburg yesterday.

RAIL DETECTIVE SLAIN BY THIEVES

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 23.—Lieut. L. B. Lehman, a detective on the P. B. and W. railroad, a branch of the Pennsylvania system, was found murdered supposedly by freight car thieves on the platform of the station at Glenside, Pa., several miles from here today, according to railroad officials here.

NO PROGRESS THANKSGIVING

In accordance with custom long since established there will be no edition of this paper on Thanksgiving Day. The Progress force, along with the rest of Clearfield, will take a day of rest and offer up their full quota of thanks (and put down their full share of turkey).

The Progress takes this opportunity to spread broadcast the message of Thanksgiving.

SINN FEIN PLOT TO STEAL ARMS IS UNCOVERED

Scotland Yard Arrests 10 In Connection With Theft Of Munitions From Barracks.

London, England, Nov. 23.—A widespread plot to steal government munitions from barracks in and around London is believed to have been uncovered today with the arrest of six civilians and four soldiers.

Although Scotland Yard had guarded the case with closest secrecy, it was reported that six machine guns and eighteen rifles, stolen from barracks here, were discovered hidden in the home of a prominent member of a "Roger Casement Sinn Fein Club" in London.

HYDE CITY MAN CAUGHT IN RAID ON HOME STILL

S. B. McLaughlin Is Held As "Shiner" When Caught By Officers—Last Customer Makes Getaway

For some time past complaints has been coming to the county authorities from Hyde City regarding the increase of drunkenness in that section the past few months. The complainants insisted that at least one and possibly two illicit distillers were at work in the community and they hoped the officers of the law would be able to make a clean up.

A quiet investigation was made and suspicion pointed to S. B. McLaughlin as one of the moonshiners. Last evening Sheriff Gorman, accompanied by Chief of Police Hitt and Officer Keaggh, made a raid on the McLaughlin home near the Hyde City steel mill and caught the owner of the premises in the act of grinding out a little "cawn tucker." Two stills were found on the premises, one of which was filtering out the $4.00 per quart amber fluid at a rate to make glad the heart of its owner.

Raiders Get Wet Goods. In addition to the stills, three barrels of mash in process of fermentation were also found on the premises and destroyed, but so strong was the demand for the product of the still that but two half gallon jugs of the finished product were found on hand, while a jitney load of prospective customers were found in the alley waiting to get in to make a purchase when the raiders swooped down upon them.

One local fellow had just purchased a quart of the moonshine for which he had paid $4.00 and had just got out of the house when the officers arrived. An attempt was made to round him up but grasping his precious quart by the neck the fellow disappeared in the bush. Along the railroad track much quicker than a jack rabbit with a hound in pursuit.

McLaughlin was arrested and brought to town with his stills and gave bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance at December criminal court.

LEGION BAND IS PREPARING FINE CONCERT PROGRAM

Organization Of Band At High School Will Provide Musicians For Legion Band.

The band last night had a turnout of some thirty five members and are fast getting into excellent shape for the concerts on Nov. 29th and Nov. 30th. These concerts will be of the same high caliber of that given last February and the band has been very fortunate in being able to secure the services of Miss Mary Mitchell as soloist for both nights.

The Progress would like to call to the attention of the community to the fact that for a long time our town was without a band and that it was finally undertaken by the American Legion Post, as a result of our urgent solicitation that some one organize a Band. As a result we now have a splendid Band with fine equipment, although it is still not equipped as the Band hopes they will be within the next year.

Recruits For Band

This Band was started with the idea of making it a permanent institution of our town and with that in view a part of the proceeds of these entertainments go to the High School for the purpose of starting a Juvenile Band, from which the Legion can draw recruits as they are needed.

Only those who have had to do with the handling of a band appreciate the expense and capital required and it is understood that a full and complete statement in this case will be made by the American Legion, giving some idea of what has been done.

If you cannot get to the concert on Tuesday night, Nov. 29th don't fail to be there on Wednesday night, Nov. 30th and if you are a lover of good music you should be there both nights.

Scaffold on Stepladder. A patent has been issued for a combined stepladder and scaffold for use of housewives.

TWO BANDITS SHOT BY MARINE MAIL TRAIN GUARDS

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 23.—Two mail bandits were shot and killed by United States Marines on guard on a B. & O. train out of Washington for Pittsburgh last night, according to reports received today by local B. & O. officials. They said they did not receive full reports of the shooting.

B. & O. Officials said later that the bandits were discovered riding the bumpers just after the train left Washington, shortly after 10 o'clock last night and the marines, under orders to shoot first and ask questions afterwards, got their men.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY TO GIVE DANCE

The Women's Auxiliary of the Clearfield Hospital will hold their annual Thanksgiving dance in the Ballroom of the Dimeling Hotel, Thursday evening in celebration of the 300th anniversary of the Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers.

The Thanksgiving dance, always well patronized, is looked forward to this year as one of the banner social affairs of the early season and a record breaking attendance is predicted. The correct day is Thursday instead of Wednesday, as given to the Progress yesterday.

City Of Harrisburg Will Give Foch Cane

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 23.—Instead of a sword, the weapon of war, a cane the symbol of peace, will be the gift of this city to Marshal Foch, Allied Generalissimo, when he visits here tomorrow.

A gold headed ebony cane was finally decided upon as the most appropriate gift to present the Marshal. The presentation will take place on the Capitol plaza following the parade.

FIGHTING IN BELFAST BREAKS OUT ONCE MORE

Snipers And Gunmen Resume Battle in Streets

Belfast, Ire., Nov. 23.—Fighting in Belfast broke out at noon again today after a lapse in the five day reign of terror which started late yesterday. Gangsters and gunmen had withdrawn from the streets and for several hours an ominous silence, heavy with threat, hung over the city.

Hurried preparations were made by police to prevent a renewal of the outbreak. A check of casualties was made as the estimate of the dead rose to nearly a score. And then the silence was broken by a rain of bullets. A harbor dock foreman was fatally wounded, terrified pedestrians fled down the streets as snipers and gunmen resumed their miniature battle in several districts.

Following the outbreak it was announced the curfew law would be enforced in the Ballinacorney area—a Sinn Féin neighborhood—beginning at 9 o'clock tonight.

THIRTY FOOT EAR OF CORN AT BIG CHICAGO SHOW

Chicago, Nov. 23.—(United Press)—The gates will swing open Saturday November 26 on the most comprehensive assortment of grain and forage crops ever brought together. The number of samples at this year's International Grain and Hay Show, which is held in connection with the International Livestock Exposition, will approach the 6000 mark.

"The Annual Grain and Hay Show," said Prof. G. I. Christie, Purdue University, superintendent of the exhibit "has already demonstrated its tremendous value in the encouragement of better agriculture and better country life. It means increased yields less waste and greater prosperity."

For years there has been an urgent need for an international grain exposition. After attempts to make the show self-supporting had failed, the Chicago Board of Trade volunteered to post a $10,000 premium list for the best samples exhibited. This brought spontaneous success.

Since then the Board has twice renewed its offer and the event now seems destined to become a permanent institution. It is sponsored and aided by the federal and provincial governments of two nations and by the leading crop organizations of the western world. The fact that it is conducted not for profit but solely in the interest of agriculture accounts for the united support from all farm organizations.

Big Corn Exhibit
More than a thousand ten-ear samples of corn form a part of the exhibit. Premiums are offered for single and ten-ear samples each of white and yellow corn; for exhibits of wheat, oats, barley, rye, soybeans, cowpeas, and field peas and for samples of hay and seed, including red alsike, and sweet clover, alfalfa and timothy. One of the new features this year is a junior corn contest participated in by several hundred boys.

At the entrance of the Grain and Hay Show a giant ear of corn will stand sentinel. It is thirty feet high and fifty bushels of corn were required to make the trunk. It is known as "the dream of the corn farmer."

There will be miniature farms, complete in every detail. The exhibit of the United States Department of Agriculture, which covered three thousand square feet last year will be even larger this year. Lumber, bark and other wondrous of the soil will be represented by exhibits. One of these shows the evolution of corn from its grassy ancestor. Burbank accomplished in a few years the same results that took the Indians centuries to attain.

Canada's entry list and delegation of field experts will be 50 percent larger than last year.

Figuratively Speaking.
Near Fresno, California, in the San Joaquin valley, is a tree that is said to yield annually two tons of white figs. It is really five trees growing as one, the wide-spreading branches of the several trunks having been joined by grafting some years ago. With a yearly income from this source alone of $500, an income that is steadily growing, the owner might not very far in the future be said to be living not only under his own fig tree but on it.

ASTHMA IS DANGEROUS

Folly To Disregard Its Warning
Asthma is not only a disagreeable affliction but a dangerous one. The constant difficult breathing, the choked up air passages, the struggle for air, the loss of rest, combined to force a great strain on the nervous system and heart—often too great a strain to stand.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a condition or to continually treat with ordinary narcotic medicines, drugs, inhalant smokes, or douches which merely gives temporary relief from the choking paroxysms and do not relieve or correct the real cause of the trouble. Instead get from Sloan's drug store or any druggist a small bottle of Oxidaze (essential oil) tablets and take one at short intervals whenever distress is felt and one on going to bed. Instant relief is usually felt and in addition the effect of consistent treatment is to gradually bring about a greatly improved health condition as the symptoms of Asthma disappear forever. Oxidaze is the successful prescription of a Worcester, Mass., physician and its treatment of Asthma, even in the very worst forms has probably never been excelled.

Blooms drug store sell it and patients find it a safe pleasant and inexpensive treatment to use.

TAKES GAMBLER'S CHANCE—AND LOSES

New Cornerstone, Ohio, Nov. 23.—(United Press)—Benny Moore, 17, took a gambler's chance and lost. The youth's body was found in a wood near here—his head blown off by a shotgun. Beside him was a note to his father:

"I was disgusted, so I flip up a penny and says to myself—'Heads I shoot myself, tails I live.'"

The boy whose mother died recently, apparently pulled the trigger with the aid of a piece of string attached to a grape vine.

FRENCH DIVORCES INCREASE SINCE WORLD WAR

Paris, Nov. 23.—(United Press)—The number of divorces in France has increased by nearly twenty percent since the war. Statistics just completed for the first year after the war show more than 10,000 divorces or more than seven percent of the total marriages.

Owing to the steadily decreasing birth rate the increase of divorces constitutes a serious problem in connection with the future defense of the nation.

Mademoiselle Helene Miropolsky, one of the few women lawyers practicing in the French Courts said:

Aside from the moral causes that influence men and women, the economic revolution caused by the war is largely responsible for the increase.

During such a cataclysm as the war the number of domestic dramas multiplied. A separation of more than four years is bound to have some result. In the majority of cases it resulted in binding closer the bonds of affection—but there were hundreds of failures and surprises.

The exceptional character of the present situation is revealed by the statistics which show that the number of divorces demanded by the husbands is double the number demanded by the wives. Before the war, the situation was exactly the reverse.

MAN CONFESSES TO BRUTAL MURDER

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 23.—Thomas Chatterwood today confessed to the brutal murder of Mrs. Betty Sharpley, 22, and beautiful. Desire for $50 that she had saved to buy Christmas presents for her 18 month old son was the motive.

Chatterwood admitted he strangled the woman and child, ransacked the house and secured the money. The woman's body was discovered by the husband when he returned home from work. A rope was tied around the neck. The baby was still crying.

Fossil Remains Reveal Much.
In times of doubt and perplexity the geologist turns to the paleontologist for light on the age and original order of the rock beds he is studying. The study of the animal and plant remains that are imbedded in the rocks has thus become an important part of geologic work, and although the specialists who are engaged in this study are few, their work is of high importance.

Silent Adoration.
What surprises us most about Scotland, writes a visitor, is not the absence of luggie and the kilt, or the presence of finely detailed roads, but the silence of the barbers' shops. When I remarked on this phenomenon to a much-traveled Scot, "Aye," he commented, "they're both thinking hard about the tip."—London Post.

Have You a Cough?
When a Cough or Cold Assails You follow this Advice

Johnstown, Pa.—"In my younger years I was subject to a bronchial cough. I coughed day and night and had begun to think I was going into tuberculosis when Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended to me. I took about three bottles at that time and was absolutely cured of my cough and restored to perfect health. Since then I have always remembered Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery whenever I get the slightest cold and I have not been bothered with any such coughing spells as I had when I first commenced to take the 'Discovery.' I highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to any one afflicted with bronchial distress of any kind."

THAT OLD FURNITURE

You'll find that many a piece of furniture that you could have had fixed up and it would have lasted for many a long month again. I've fixed up a lot of furniture that folks thought couldn't be fixed and they have been loud in their praises of the manner in which it was done.

I'll gladly come and look over what you have to fix.

Had Showed Himself Too Smart. "So you haven't made Smudger your partner, after all?" said Smith to his business friend. "And I will tell you why. Smudger was engaged to my wife before I married her, and I don't believe in becoming too friendly with a man who has proved himself to be more wide awake than I am."

"Crescent" Is Increasing Moon. Whether the moon be waning or waxing, it is called a "crescent" until it becomes a half-moon or disappears. Strictly speaking, however, the term should not be used for the waning moon. "Crescent" is derived from the Latin "crescens," which means increasing, so that the crescent moon is really the "increasing" and not the "waning" moon.

Exceptions.

An astronomer says that the term "fixed," as applied to stars, is a misnomer. Still, we know some stars that are mighty well fixed.—Boston Transcript.

Extraordinary qualities are possessed by the River Tinto, in Spain. It hardens and petrifies the sand of its bed, and if a stone falls in the stream and remains upon another, in a few months they unite and become one.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

"By Skinny"

"Large oaks from little acorns grow," and the tenor of men's lives are often changed by trifles. To illustrate further we may add that as the result of a little happening down at Karthaus yesterday a strong movement will be launched at the next meeting of Group 6 of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association to have a course of athletics added to the banking curriculum and the force of each bank in the district augmented by the addition of a boxing instructor.

This radical change in banking circles will be strongly advocated by Clearfield county bankers who are all going around with chips on their shoulders begging some one to even "tread on the tail of their coats."

The man who will make the opening appeal for the new departure in banking regulations, etc., is "Battling" Shope, the lightweight champion boxer, of Clearfield county. True, the "Battler" only attained his title yesterday, but he has already issued a defi to every 125 pound "money changer" in Centre county. "How was the title garnered," you ask. Well, gather around children and you shall hear. A few short months ago now "Battling" Shope succeeded N. B. Long as Cashier of the bank at Karthaus, while the aforesaid transferred his efforts and affections to the Cashier's desk at the Snow Shoe National bank over in Centre County.

Bankers are like doctors, except that the bankers have more money, and no sooner had the two men settled into their new positions than more or less friction or difficulty arose between them and their institutions. As the two banks drew much of their business from the same locality the bankers came into daily conflict, so to speak. Finally Shope put it over on the other fellow and snared a worth while bit of business or two, it is said, and that added more fuel to the flames. To make a long story short matters came to such a pass between the two men that yesterday the long-suffering Long hopped into his Hudson-Super-Six over at Snow Shoe and burned up the intervening twelve or fifteen miles coming across the county line into Karthaus. When he arrived at the latter place he entered the bank there and proceeded to tell Shope what he thought of him.

Shope didn't seem to care what Long thought of him and went right ahead doing business. Long persisted in his criminal intentions and even charged Shope with failing to notify a customer, for five minutes after he had discovered it, that his account was overdrawn 87 cents. That is the taunt supreme among bankers, charging a fellow with failure to notify at once in all cases of "red ink balances." No banker ever did it.

Then Long added to his former statements by asserting that he had made the trip from Snow Shoe to Karthaus for the sole purpose of licking Shope, and he didn't propose to leave until he had accomplished his fell design. Shope is slow to anger but that sort of got under his hide. You know a banker can't make a move of any kind, even in self defense, until he has the sanction of the Board of Directors and when he had finally got his "dander up," Shope proceeded to call the directors in turn and asked each one's permission to take the irate Long on for a round or two.

Those Karthaus bank directors are typical sons of old Clearfield county and when Shope told them what Long had said they replied in one voice "Go to it Shope, and by Heck if you can't lick that skinny son of a gun, you'd better hunt another job." With that commission ringing in his ears Shope hopped over the counter and told Cashier Long that he would give him the opportunity of licking him providing he would go out of the village that the streets might not run red with the slaughter. Long was willing and taking his intended victim into his waiting automobile Long quickly rushed him up the hill and out of town. Selecting a battle ground in the woods the two men doffed their outer garments and their banking reserve and went to it man to man. But what a fall my countrymen. Long proved to be long only on promises and soon found that he was mighty short on performance. The Clearfield county "champ" smote him hip and thigh and kicked him in the slats in between. In fact Shope hung it across the Centre county challenger so quickly, so neatly, and so completely that it really pains us to tell about it. He simply knocked the smithereens out of Long who didn't have a chance from the time the mill started until his prostrate and badly used up carcass was picked up from the greensward by sympathetic persons attracted to the scene by the sounds of battle and placed in his car and sent back to Snow Shoe, a sore, sadder but much wiser man.

The battling banker is carrying his honors modestly and receives the belt emblematic of the championship he won at a dinner to be given him by the Clearfield county bankers on Washington's Birthday.

Now that Shope has cleaned up Centre county's pugnacious champ a movement is on foot in local banking circles to match the Clearfield county champ against the best man the Blair county bankers can induce to get into the ring at the next meeting of Group 6.

Meanwhile and henceforward when any other Centre county banker battles gets "hay on his horns" we would advise him to go get a reputation before tackling our Clearfield county financiers because, take it from us, they all throw a mighty mean fist.

HARDING CONSECRATED TO SERVICE

In his Thanksgiving Proclamation President Harding once more stresses what is the keynote of his Administration and the central thought of his political career—service. "We shall be prospered as we shall deserve prosperity," he declares, "seeking not alone for the material things, but for those of the spirit as well; earnestly trying to help others; asking, before all else, the privilege of service." And again, "opportunity for very great service awaits us if we shall prove equal to it."

Warren G. Harding entered the political campaign a year ago with that thought ever before him. Service is to him what the blazing cross in the heavens was to Constantine: "In hoc signo vinces." In his acceptance speech he said: "With an unalterable faith and in a hopeful spirit, with a hymn of service in my heart, I pledge fidelity to our country and to God."

In his Labor Day speech of 1920 he declared: "Work is the supreme engagement, the sublime luxury of life. I wish I could plant the gospel of loyalty to work and interest in accomplishment." And by "work" he meant service.

In a front porch speech of September 23rd, 1920, he said: "Service, a willingness to serve intelligently, to train for human service, to cleave an idealism of deeds and honest toil and scientific accomplishment, rather than to serve by mere words."

In his address on "Social Justice," some time after, he said: "I believe and have repeatedly said that citizenship is based upon obligation"—the obligation to serve one's fellow-men.

In his Cleveland speech of October 28th, he said: "I want to bring about the greatest service that America can give to the world—the service of an example of a great representative democracy undivided—that is my ambition. That is my opportunity for service to America as I conceive it."

In his farewell address to the Senate, following his election, he said: "One cannot promise agreement in all things with an opposite party which is sometimes insistently wrong, but we may find common ground in the spirit of service—there is so much to be done, and we have already had so much delay, that I should like unanimous recognition that there are no party ends to serve, but precious days are calling for service to our common country."

Repeatedly in his inaugural address he stresses the importance of service. "I can vision the ideal republic—where we may call to universal service every plant, agency or facility, all in the sublime sacrifice for country—out of such universal service will come a new unity of spirit and purpose, a new confidence and consecration which would make our dense impregnation our triumph assured. Service is the supreme commitment of life. I would rejoice to acclaim the era of the golden rule and crown it with the autocracy of service."

In his first address to Congress, and in his address at the unveiling of Bolivar, while the word is not used, the thought of service is kept uppermost, and when the soldier dead were laid row on row on the Hoboken pier, he said: "These had served, which is the supreme inspiration in living." "Service is the greatest thing in life," he told the Annapolis graduates last June, and to the graduates of the American University in Washington, he said: "I wish I could impress the young men and women of every graduating class this year with my own acute conviction regarding the obligation of service—the diploma is not a certificate of right to special favor and profit in the world, but rather a commission of service."

Tomorrow's Citizens

If all of those attending Pennsylvania's schools and colleges were gathered in one place it would make a city of some 1,750,000 souls. Famous for its mines and mills, its farms and factories, the state has not neglected the welfare of its future citizens while building up its industries.

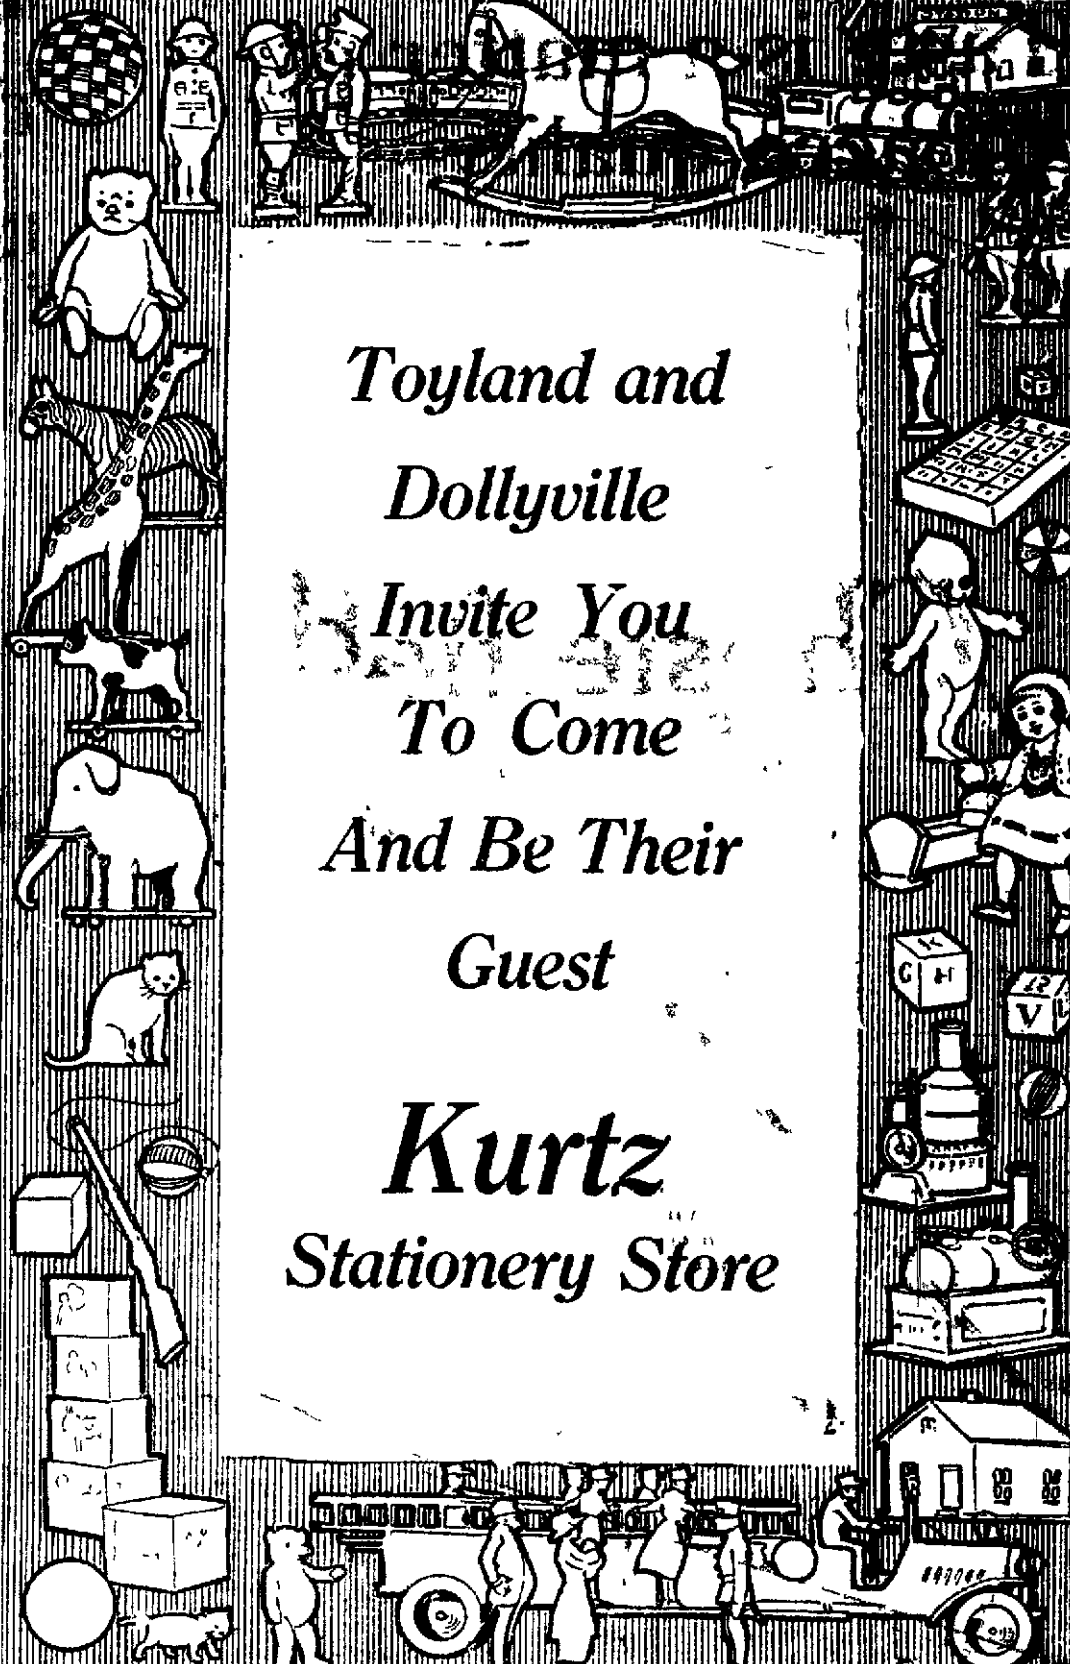

This great educational system is broad enough to include every child in the state. In every community may be found men whose boyhood was spent in humble surroundings, but who found the school a stepping stone to a place of power and responsibility.

The telephone, itself the product of many scientific minds, is most widely used where education is most general. Thousands of men and women of the Bell Telephone System received in the small schools the fundamental training that fitted them for their vocation. Their training and their loyalty have given Pennsylvania a telephone service that has never been excelled.

"OH, OH, CINDY"

When Robinson Crusoe was shipwrecked upon his island he prepared for a lonesome time, but he didn't have it. Not he. When his hired man, Friday, fell in love with Lily, the Queen of the Cannibals, his troubles merely began. Through it isn't generally known, Friday's rival Saturday, was prominent in social circles; and aside from being a musical genius, a base drum soloist to be exact, he was possessed of untold wealth in the form of an egg. Of course, it wouldn't be fair to you to tell in detail what happened, but things did happen. The affair was the talk of the entire island. It is revealed entirely in "Oh, Oh, Cindy" which will be presented at the Opera House Nov. 23 and 25 under the direction of the John B. Rodgers Producing Co. for Rescue Hook and Ladder Co.

The part of Robinson Crusoe is interpreted by Fred Robinson, who seems as perfectly at home on an island as he does on the street. Much fun is provoked by the keen antagonism of Friday and Saturday, which parts are carried by G. L. Bonner and E. T. Ibberson, respectively.

Miss Margaret Hile, as Lily, deserves special mention for her clever portrayal of the role of the cannibal princess. This part is easily one of the high spots in a bill of top-notch characters.

Tickets have been placed on sale by the finance committee, Chas. Misses Helen Kephart, Genevieve Sweeney, who has charge of this

NOT TO KNOW IS NO EXCUSE

To Know How to Keep Well Is Better Than to Call in a Doctor to Get Well. Sickness Is a Penalty Not an Accident.

One of the best and most dependable and important preventives of getting sick, one of the surest ways of keeping well is to form and maintain the exceedingly good habit of regular, thorough, daily bowel evacuation.

That is Nature's "best bet." You should do your best to help Nature, not hinder her in her efforts to keep you well. With the best of good intentions you may employ many methods. Strong, drastic acting medicines that force the bowels to act simply replace one evil by another evil. It may secure temporary action but it produces more than temporary irritation and other bad effects. Don't judge by promise in selecting a simple remedy to assist Nature. Performance is the true test. Take Beecham's for example.

Over 20 years ago people began to take Beecham's. Today millions of people all over the world take Beecham's, recommend Beecham's to their friends, hand the use of Beecham's down from father to son or from mother to daughter for generation after generation. That means much. You never hear any unfavorable criticism or complaint regarding Beecham's. That means much if not more. It takes real merit to withstand the tests of time and trial. You can do much to help Nature keep you well by keeping a box of Beecham's in the house, ready for use at the first warning of disorder or derangement. All druggists sell Beecham's.

BEAUTY IS HARMONY

There can be no harmony, and therefore no beauty, in home in which the mother and wife is cross and irritable and dull-spirited. Often as not, disease is at the bottom of such a condition.
Let the woman who is always tired and who suffers from low spirits and mysterious aches and pains, only try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She will then see that the beauty and harmony will be restored to her home with the return of her health and good spirits.

Winning Jump

Miss Lucy Hart won the high jump at four feet six inches at the international athletic meet for girls at Pershing Stadium, Paris. Her points helped swell England's total to 44. The French scored 33 points.

Original Weights and Measures.
Weights were originally taken from grains of wheat. The Jews ascribed weights and measures to Cain, the Egyptians to Inoh and the Greeks to Hermes. An interesting series of copper weights (now in the British museum), admirably modeled in the form of lions, 16 in number, and diminishing in regular gradation from one foot to one inch in length, was discovered by Sir Austen Henry Layard, the noted English archeologist, in the northwest palace at Nimrod (pointed out by tradition as the site of Nineveh).

Got "Demijohn" From Persia.

The term demijohn is said to be a corruption of the name Damagan, a town in northern Persia, once famous for its glassworks. The word was first used by the French in the form "dame-jeanne," probably in accordance with the humorous colloquial use of proper nouns in connection with vessels, common in all languages, in the same way in which "jack" and "jill" are used in English. In the English adoption of the word as "demijohn," the first syllable is a corruption of the French "dame" and would therefore be without reference to the quantity held by the vessel.

Don't Breathe Iodine Fumes.

Fumes of iodine have recently been urged as a method of administering that drug preferable to the usual tincture. It has been shown by experiments that fumes are absorbed through the skin, and when inhaled are absorbed by the lungs, but it was shown also that inhalation is very dangerous even in small quantities, especially when there is any disease of the respiratory passages.

Success.
"No real man ever reaches what he calls 'success,'" said one of the big "best business men" in this country. No one with high ideals is ever satisfied with his own achievement. With every high point gained, some higher peak still looms ahead. Because the high spirit reaches earth's last boundary and finds the goal still unattained, there must be new opportunities still waiting beyond. Even the desert mirage is but a reflection of what really exists somewhere.

THE CALL OF THE NORTH!

And a clarion call it is that this splendid, vigorous story of the North woods sends out from the screen.

"God's Country and the Law" has been made in the bold, broad strokes of that master-craftsman—JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD. The magic of the motion picture turns the warm and glowing pages of this masterly story into a pulsing, living drama, whose sheer charm and realism carries one away to that vast country "up there."

It is the call of the North—and everybody answers it.

Women Fade Quickly in the Orient.
Despite their comparatively easy life, occidental women almost invariably fade in China earlier than those at home. Miss McCormick writes in the China Press. In a year in the Far East the average woman ages as much physically as she would in five years at home. After she has become accustomed her facial deterioration is less rapid, but she never regains the youthful freshness that was hers when she first sailed. Newcomers in the Orient neatly always remark on the many tired, drawn faces to be seen even among the young girls.

Soul Also Noted Food.

It is not wasted time to yield to the influences that uplift and ennoble the spirit as we pass through our busy days. The moment's pause to view the beautiful sunset, to catch the strain of music that floats through the open window, to read the inspiring sentence on the printed page—these should be an essential part of the day's program, for the soul needs food as well as the body, and its neglect is never economy.

SO WEAK SO NERVOUS

How Miserable This Woman Was Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toomsboro, Ga.—"I suffered terribly with backache and headache all the time, was so weak and nervous I didn't know what to do, and could not do my work. My trouble was deficient and irregular periods. I read in the papers what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to give it a trial. I got good results from its use so that I am now able to do my work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. C. F. PHILLIPS, Toomsboro, Ga.

Weak, nervous women make unhappy homes, their condition irritates both husband and children. It has been said that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous dependency, "the blues," irritability and backache arise from some displacement or derangement of a woman's system. Mrs. Phillips' letter clearly shows that no other remedy is so successful in overcoming this condition as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Children Who Need Cod Liver Oil Will Take Vinol

Because it contains no oil, but does contain all the medicinal elements which have made Cod Liver Oil famous, together with vegetable iron and other up-building ingredients especially favorable to robust health by taking Vinol, and we ask any mother who has a delicate child to try it on our guarantee that it is perfectly harmless, and if it does not help the child the druggist will return the full purchase price.

For a hundred years the medicinal elements contained in the cod's liver and oil have been regarded as the safest and best strength and body building medicinal agents known.

Many people, however—especially children—cannot take cod liver oil because of the nauseating oil.

In Vinol they get all the medicinal value of cod liver oil and emulsions in a delicious tasting form and entirely free from oil—agreeable to the most delicate stomach—therefore it is better. If you have a delicate child, give it Vinol. Knowing that it has helped so many other children, you owe it to the child.
